DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/8/08 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

Applicant should note that the large number of references in the attached IDS have been considered by the examiner in the same manner as other documents in Office search files are considered by the examiner while conducting a search of the prior art in a proper field of search. See MPEP 609.05(b). Applicant is requested to point out any particular references in the IDS which they believe may be of particular relevance to the instant claimed invention in response to this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 7-10, and 12-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Broome et al USPN 6,152,946 in view of Berthiaume USPN 5,161,534 and further in view of Okada USPN 4,887,997.

Broome discloses the invention substantially as claimed being an embolic filtering system comprising a self-expandable nitinol filter frame (24) comprising a filter element (40) mounted on a guidewire (32) and a retractable sheath (64). However, Broome does not disclose the structure of the proximal end of the device comprising a torque device or use of a split seam-sheath.

Berthiaume teaches the use of a tool (10) for manipulating a medical guidewire comprising a handle (12) and a cap (14) that compresses collets onto a guidewire in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing the operator with a detachable means for torqueing and controlling a guidewire.

Okada teaches the use of a catheter comprising a split seam sheath (2) and a splitter (9). Okada further discloses the splitter comprises an extension arm (5) having a distal end capable of receiving both the guidewire (1) and the sheath and a side-port (7) that is offset from the central axis of the guidewire.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add the torque device of Berthiaume to the end of catheter of Broome in order to provide the user with a way to advance, rotate, and retract the filter through movement of the guidewire.

Furthermore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add a split seam sheath as taught by Okada to the catheter of Broome and to add the sheath splitter taught by Okada to the cap of the tool of Berthiaume in order to provide the user with a removable sheath and guiding it away from the handle of torque device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 4, 7-10, and 12-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
